A Happy Memorial Day Weekend to you:

Memorial Day is always a time to reflect on the many freedoms and liberties that we enjoy in the United States. As we are grateful for the bounty that we have, we are also bound by a sense of duty to remember those who sacrificed their lives, in many arenas, to preserve our independence. This weekend, especially during the month of May, let us ask our Blessed Mother to continue to watch over our country. And, we ask her to protect all of our men and women in the Armed Forces. Throughout the years, each generation of fighters have endured different challenges and enemies. May Our Blessed Mother be with our military each and every step of their way, today and into the future.

A quote from President Reagan, at Arlington National Cemetery, on May 31, 1982:

“The United States and the freedom for which it stands, the freedom for which they died, must endure and prosper. Their lives remind us that freedom is not bought cheaply. It has a cost; it imposes a burden. And just as they whom we commemorate were willing to sacrifice, so too must we -- in a less final, less heroic way -- be willing to give of ourselves.”

On a much different note, I found that some enjoyed the hypothetical quotes from “famous moms.” A few more to share with you:

GEORGE WASHINGTON’S MOTHER: “The next time I catch you throwing money across the Potomac River, you can say goodbye to your allowance.”

MONA LISA’S MOTHER: “After all that money your father and I spent on your braces, that’s the best smile that you can give us?”

NAPOLEON’S MOTHER: “All right, if you’re not hiding your report card inside of your jacket, take your hand out of there and show me.”

ABRAHAM LINCOLN’S MOTHER: “What’s with the stovepipe hat? Why can’t you wear a baseball cap like the rest of the kids?”

As you know, we recently concluded our annual “Family Carnival.” The word “family” always shines through all of the many necessary preparations and planning that go into such a wonderful 5 day event. Thank you to all who participated in the planning, volunteering, attending, and just saying a prayer for us that week. Thank you, too, to those who put a “statue in the window” for the good weather that we had. It certainly made a difference. More about the carnival to follow in next week’s bulletin.

Have a safe and enjoyable Memorial Day weekend. Remember to thank the Lord for the abundant blessings that He has bestowed upon the United States of America. Pray also, to Our Blessed Mother, for the safety and well being of our troops. And may those who made the ultimate sacrifice for our county, rest in peace. Amen.

Anselm is Awesome!

-Fr. Chiriaco

In this memoir, set as deeply in his mind as in the Southeast Asian jungle, a young American soldier embarks on a journey to a war that, for him, will never be over.

The world was a playground for Mickey, a naive Irish American kid bored with his life. His father served in World War II, his brother was a Marine in Vietnam; now it was his turn. His 365 days in Vietnam builds in torment until an attack on a bunker complex in Cambodia. Wounded, his friend captured, he becomes a tormented survivor knowing he is always just a heartbeat from death.
