A Cordial Second Week of Lent to You!

Once again, time flies as our Lenten Season has begun. Because of the fast and abstaining required for Ash Wednesday, and for the distribution of ashes in church, one can seem to think that Ash Wednesday is actually longer than 24 hours. However, it is now 11 days since then; therefore, our 2016 Lenten Season is now down to 29 days. What have you done? What will you be doing?

Our Catholic Schools Week was a success. Many activities planned with and for our students and faculty. Perhaps, the best of all occurred on Friday of that week. A half-day is always a good way to end any celebration. The half-day was accentuated by a luncheon for the faculty and staff of our school as well as the staff of the Parish Center. Thanks to the Home and School Association and for all those who volunteered to help that day.

Last week, in Our Lady of Victory Hall, we had the kick-off for our annual “Race for Education.” This is the first year that I will be involved in this great St. Anselm tradition. The kick-off involved all the students and teachers, with all the specifics and prizes announced and put forth. The coordinator of all of the festivities was Mrs. Patricia Erwin. As a retired teacher from our school, Mrs. Erwin picked up where she left off. Full of enthusiasm and gusto, Mrs. Erwin stirred the students to look forward to the rewards of their efforts in conjunction with the “Race for Education.” So, let’s get...“Ready, Set, Go!”

Thank you for your generosity with the Ash Wednesday Collection. Our total for the day was added to our weekly collection. Still making up for the “Sunday snow-day,” your contributions went a long way to take the sting out of January blizzard.

Speaking of Ash Wednesday and Lent, please allow me to explain some of the confusion that occurred this past Sunday, after the Masses. As I stated in last week’s bulletin, it was my idea to change our Lenten symbol from the wood chip, to the cross and lanyard. The crosses looked so good in the catalogue and the price was right. When the crosses and lanyards arrived, they came about 80 to a bag. Tied up nicely in the bag, things began to literally “unravel” at that time. Many hours were spent by many students at lunch time who tried to “untangle” the situation. This was accomplished and the crosses and lanyards were placed-carefully in church. However, my idea took another “twist” for the worse. It was my idea to put the crosses and lanyards on hangers to keep them separated. What a mistake! As our good folks began to distribute the crosses after the 5 o’clock Mass on Saturday night, things got a bit “jumbled.” The lanyards became “intertwined” with one another causing the lines to “jam” for those waiting for the crosses....

May I thank all those who tried to give out the crosses. May I thank them and SO MANY OTHERS who tried to “undo” the mess that I made. Folks were trying before (and yes, during) and after Mass, to help. Again, may I say thank you to all, for your patience and understanding in this complicated process. I suppose, with all of the puns that I used above, we can say that “Our Lady of Knots” is still with us!!

Go forth confidently with the Lord as you journey through this Lenten Season.

Anselm is Awesome!

-Fr. Chiriaco

Archbishop Ryan High School 20th Anniversary of the Bonaventure Program

The Bonaventure Program is for students with an IEP.

- The only program in which the students attend a second track Learning Strategies Course which is taught by certified special education teachers.
- The Learning Strategies course is an accredited course that students get a grade for on their Report card and earn quality points toward their ranking.
- The Learning Strategies Course does not involve tutoring.
- All coursework is completed during the school day so that the students may participate in extracurricular activities.
- Bonaventure teachers and the students' other academic teachers work together to make certain that accommodations are followed in the general education classroom.
- All of the Bonaventure students are involved in the school wide literacy program.
