A hearty Winter greeting to you:

Well, it took awhile; but, Winter has found us. Some years, there is a short period of time between Christmas and Ash Wednesday. This enables the long season of Winter to be broken up a bit and the cold weather doesn't seem to last as long. But, it's not that way this year. With our celebrating of Christmas already over a month ago and, with the Eagles no longer in the Super Bowl hunt (sorry...), it is making the March 6 date of Ash Wednesday seem endless...We'll get there, as we do every year. I thought I would drag something out of the Summer Bulletin archives this week:

Hopefully, the very hot weather of this summer is finding you with ways to beat the heat. If we think the temperatures are hot here, imagine how hot it will be in the place where we would go if we do not keep the commandments. The Gospel reading this past week talked about Jesus and His disciples trying to find an out of the way place to be alone for awhile and refresh themselves. As I was growing up, I remember going with my father to a number of places. No matter where we went, it always seemed that he knew somebody there. If we were at a Phillies game, visiting downtown Philadelphia, traveling on the Frankford El or the subway, at one time or another, someone would recognize my dad and vice versa. There was no place that we would go without me being introduced to one of my dad's many friends. My nieces and nephews now tell me the same thing about myself. I can't go anywhere, especially as a priest, where I don't meet someone from my ministries and assignments. For instance, many years ago I was taking my mom to the foot doctor. A monthly trip that we had down "to a science." However, on this particular day, the street outside of the doctor's office was being resurfaced. We took care of the appointment and, as we were leaving, the workers were outside of the office door. I led my mother carefully around the workers and their equipment. As we walked just a few yards from the scene, all of a sudden I heard one of the workers shout: "Fr. Chiriaco!" Surprised, I turned around, and recognized the voice and the face of the worker. I said "Whittle—third seat first aisle." The young man was a student in one of my classes at West Catholic. My mom said: "You're just like your father." It was a chance meeting; however, one that did both of us good.

It reminds me of the many times and ways that the Lord "calls our name." We can never be far from the Lord. At times, we may try—for one reason or another. The key prepositions here are: "FROM," and "WITH." As we move through our daily lives, let us never be far FROM the Lord; and, never let us be constantly moving FROM the Lord. Rather, let us walk WITH the Lord. Let us recognize His voice in the noise of our daily lives.

Like my dad, no matter where we go, we should always recognize someone. And that someone, should always be the Lord. Stay cool!

(Remember, the above story was from a Bulletin written in the Summer of 2016!)©

A reminder that our annual "19154 5K" event is next Saturday, February 2nd. Volunteers can still sign up as can runners on Saturday, in Our Lady of Victory Hall. We get started early in the morning. Please come and join us. Thanks, as always, to our committee who work "52 weeks a year for our 5K!"

Anselm is Awesome!

-Fr. Chiriaco

In this memoir, set as deeply in his mind as in the Southeast Asian jungle, a young American soldier embarks on a journey to a war that, for him, will never be over.

The world was a playground for Mickey, a naive Irish American kid bored with his life. His father served in World War II, his brother was a Marine in Vietnam; now it was his turn. His 365 days in Vietnam builds in torment until an attack on a bunker complex in Cambodia. Wounded, his friend captured, he becomes a tormented survivor knowing he is always just a heartbeat from death.
